Technical Rider (Murikamification)

Name of Performance: Murikamification

Choreographer: Erik Kaiel

Sound requirements:

A loud portable sound system that can play usb-sticks or bluetooth

Props:

One coconut for each performance

Crew

3-4 volunteers for each show - one to carry/run the music, & the others to lead the crowd along the route. (The company will inform them how to do this on location - its handy but not crucial if one volunteer leads the crowd for all shows, the other volunteers can vary)

Dressing Rooms

Theater dressing rooms should be fully cleaned prior to the day of the company load-in. This included, but is not limited to, toilets, sinks, showers, floors, countertops, and mirrors. Dressing rooms should:

- Be unlocked and ready for company use before the arrival of the technical staff.
- Have ample tables, mirrors, and make-up lights for 2 women and 3 men
- Have an extra room near the dressing rooms for wardrobe equipped with an iron and ironing board.
- Have access to on site laundry facilities for standard costume laundry
- Have access to non-public lavatory facilities with hot and cold running water and showers.
- Include 5 full sized bath towels for use by dancers.
- Include at least 5 to 10 lbs. of ice readily available at all rehearsals and each performance.

Please note that if on site laundry facilities do not exist, Arch8 production manager must be notified as soon as possible in advance of the company's arrival.

Hospitality

Light refreshments: fruit juice, mineral water (non-carbonated), fresh fruit, snack food, ready for company at dancers call time (2 hours before scheduled rehearsals, or two hours before performance times.) This is the only sustenance the dancers have between rehearsal and performance.

Hospitality should be provided for 5 persons.

Accommodations

Purchaser is to provide lodging; it shall be at a 3 star hotel or better in the vicinity of the venue (walking distance preferred), away from highway noise or other excessive noise. A total number of up to 5 single rooms are needed per night. They must be quiet, non-smoking rooms. In exceptional circumstances, sharing in double rooms may be possible, but only with
